

Feeding Birds in Miramichi Area Gardens During the Winter

Deana and Peter Gadd, Garden Club, Oct. 08, 2015

Who might our visitors be?

Black-capped Chickadee

Black-capped Chickadee

Black-capped
Chickadee

© Peter M. Gadd

Blue Jay

Blue Jay

Blue Jay

© Peter M. Gadd

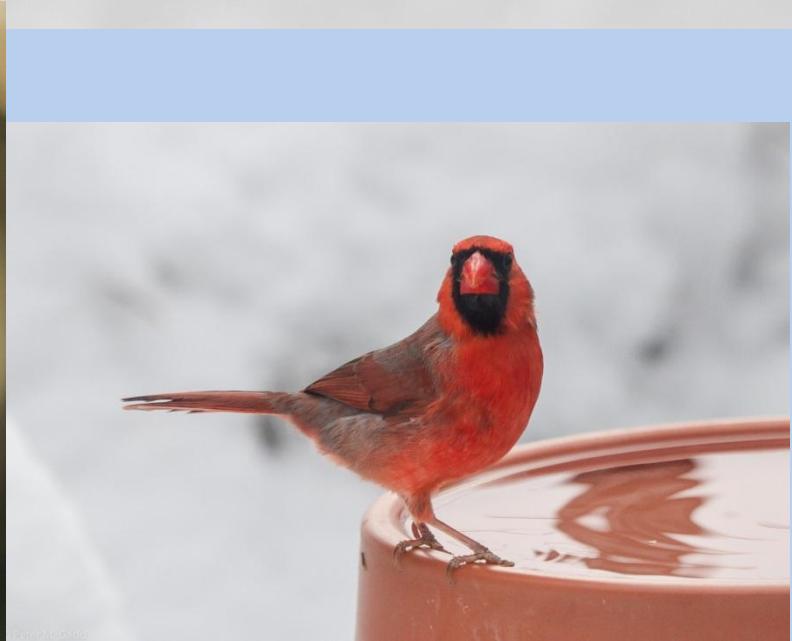

Gray Jay

Northern Cardinal

Northern Cardinal

Northern Cardinal

Peter M. Gadd
Hairy
Woodpecker

Downy Woodpecker

Mourning Dove

Red-breasted Nuthatch

Peter M. Gadd

White-breasted Nuthatch

White- breasted Nuthatch

White-breasted Nuthatch

Brown Creeper

Dark-eyed
Junco

White-throated Sparrow

White-throated
Sparrow

Chipping Sparrow

American Tree Sparrow

Fox Sparrow

Song Sparrow (early return)

Common Redpoll

Common Redpoll

Common Redpoll

© Peter M. Gadd

Hoary Redpoll

Pine Siskin

Pine Siskin

Pine Siskin

Pine Siskin

Peter M. Gadd

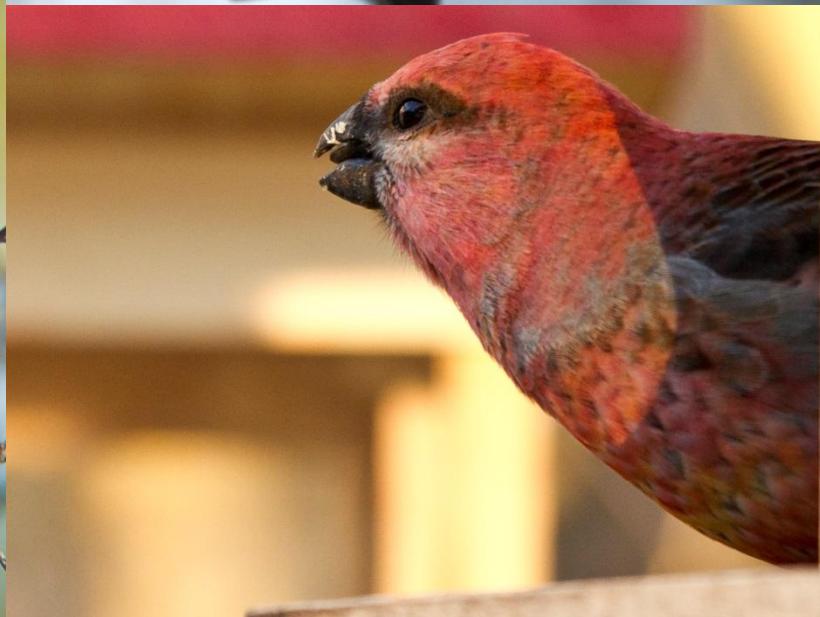

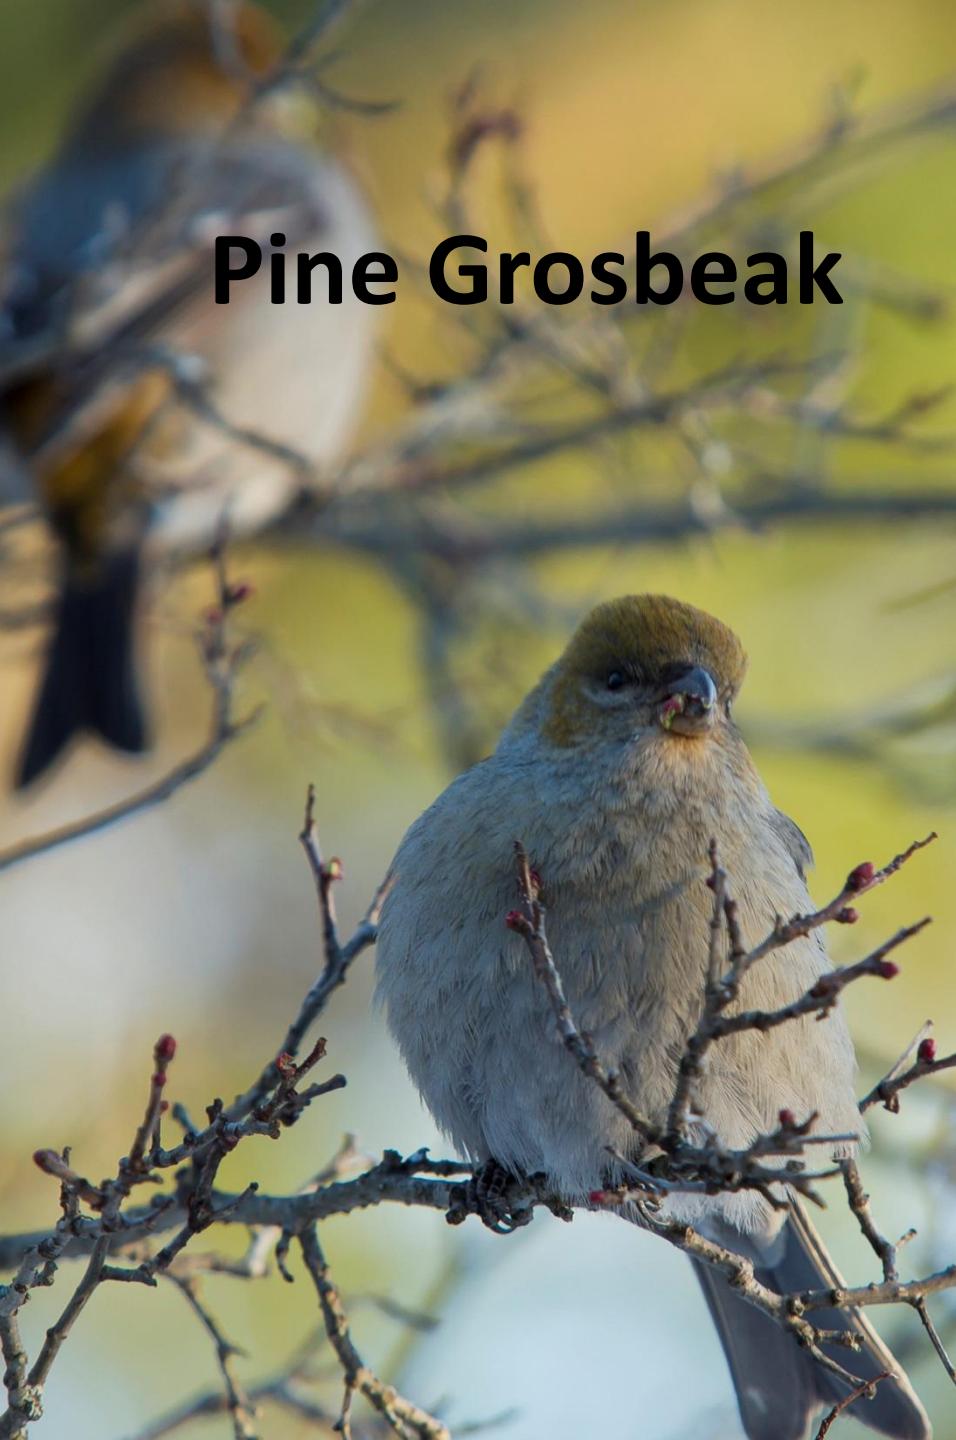

Evening Grosbeak

Evening Grosbeak

Pine Grosbeak

Snow Bunting

Purple Finch

Purple Finch

Peter M. Gadd

House Finch

American Goldfinch

A close-up photograph of an American Goldfinch perched on a thin, light-colored branch. The bird is facing slightly to the right, showing its bright yellow head and breast, and a mix of tan and white on its back and wings. Its black wings have distinct white wing bars. The background is dark and out of focus.

American Goldfinch

Pine Warbler

Methods of Providing Feed

- Save plants/debris/leaf litter/brush piles in your garden to provide seeds and shelter – clean-up in the spring
- Provide perches near feeders
- Provide a variety of feeders-types/foods:
- Scatter food on ground/snow
- Be consistent but birds get much of their food in the wild
- Try to keep feeders somewhat clean – keep an eye on them!

© Peter M. Gadd

© Peter M. Gadd

© Peter M. Gadd

© Peter M. Gadd

© Peter M. Gadd

© Peter M. Gadd

Squirrel Resistant Feeders

Squirrel Inviting Feeders!

© Peter M. Gadd

Window Feeders

Carefully placed will keep squirrels away

This works
if not placed under a tree

What to offer as food

- Black oil sunflower seeds
- Mixed seeds
- Suet
- Nyjer seed
- Unsalted peanuts
- Peanuts in the shell
- Peanut butter (a squirrel favorite though)
- Fruit
- Water

Heated water bowl

Heated water bowl – not quite keeping up

Bohemian Waxwing

© Peter M. Gadd

Some birds will take advantage of fruit still on boughs

Bohemian Waxwing

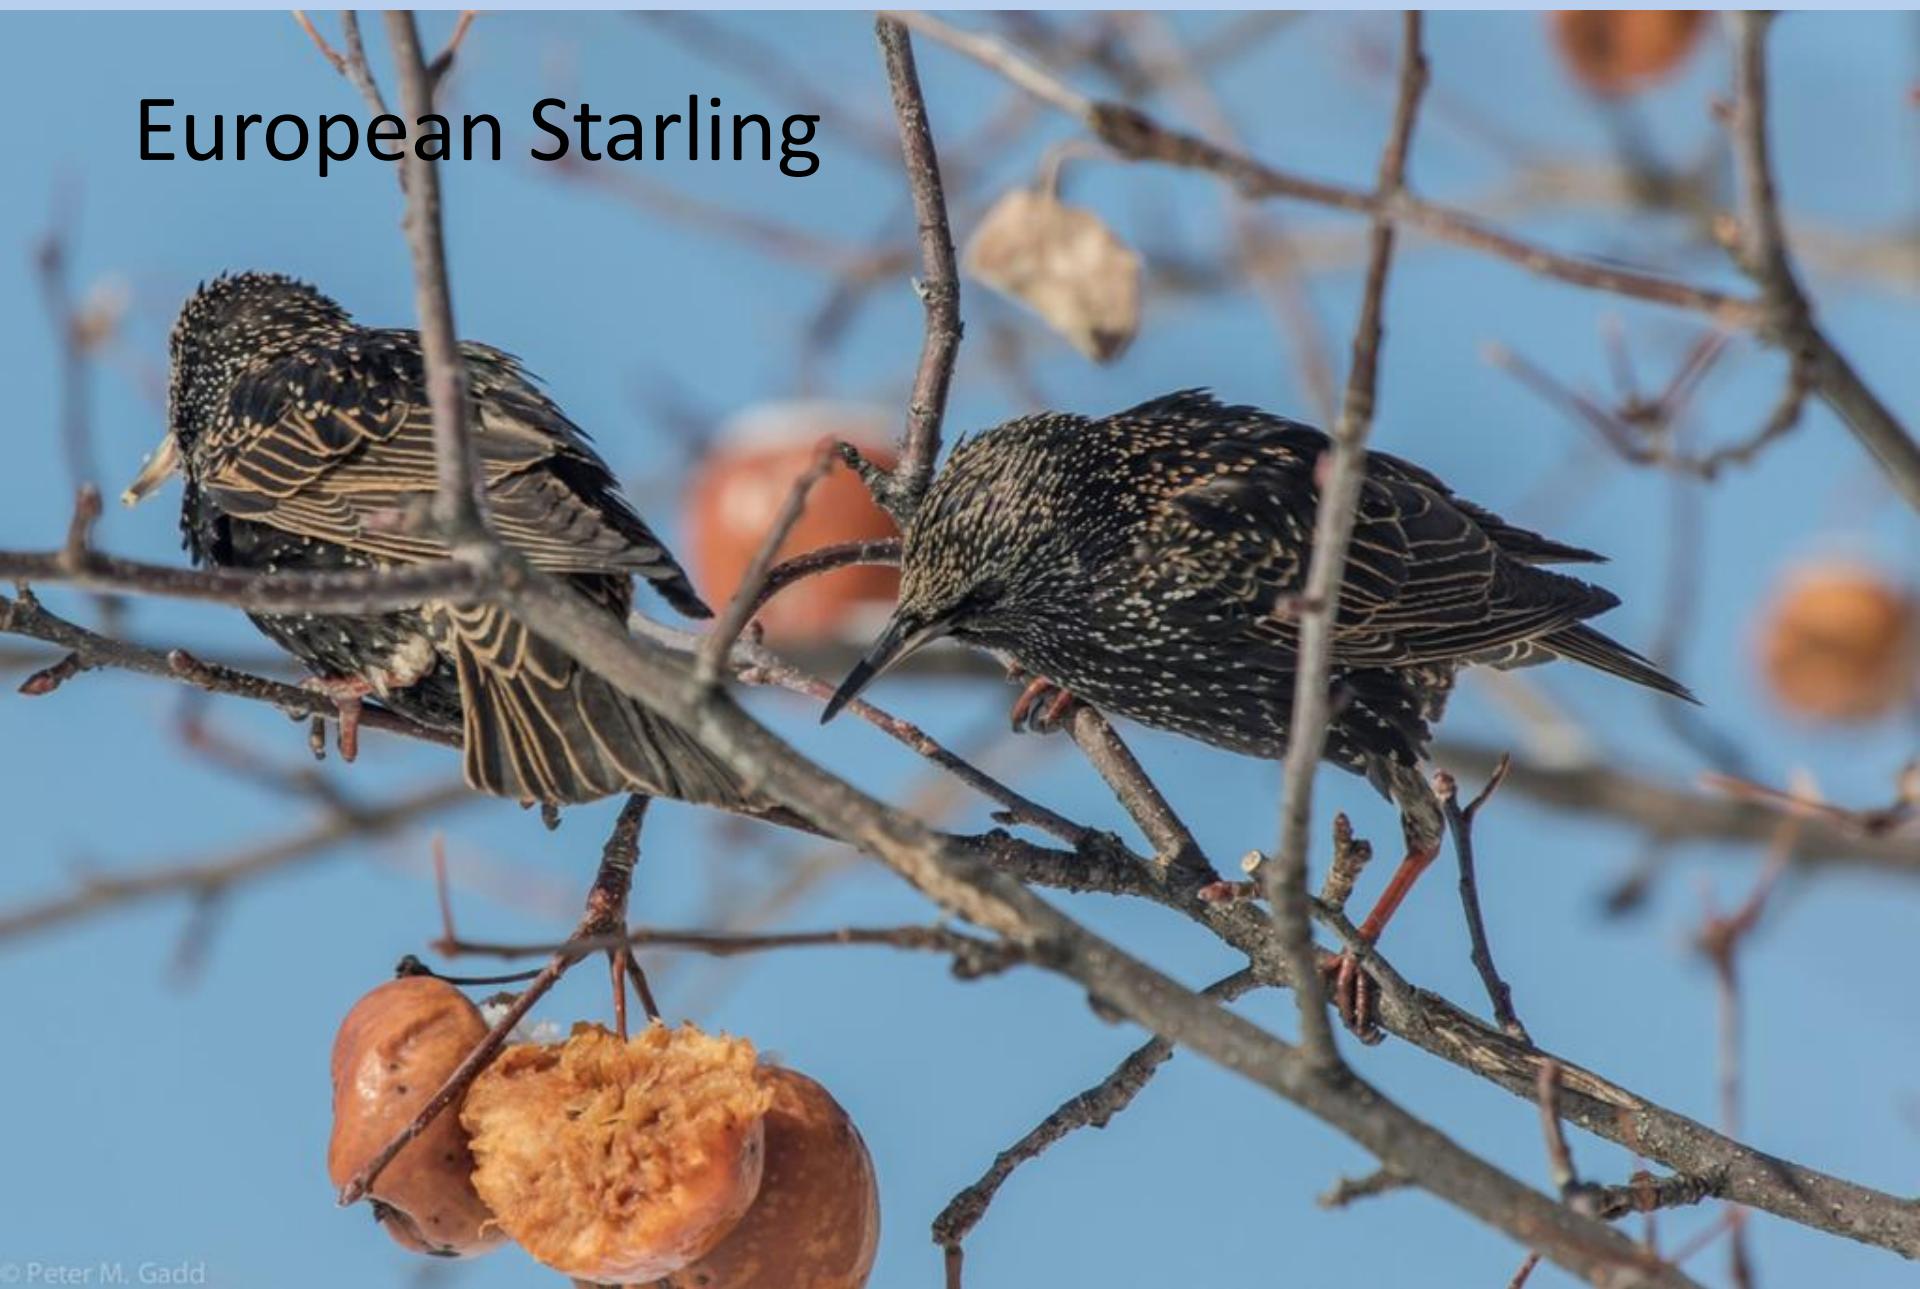

Pine Grosbeak

Cedar Waxwing

European Starling

Bohemian Waxwing

Mountain Ash berries

Robins passing through late in the fall will take advantage of these.

Mixed flock of “black” birds

Common Grackles, Starlings, Red-winged Blackbirds, Cowbirds

Brown-headed Cowbird

Common Grackle

Common Grackle

© Peter M. Gadd

Red-winged Blackbird (early return)

American Crow

Common Raven

Predatory Birds that will visit feeders

Merlin (a falcon)

Peter M. Gadd

Sharp-shinned Hawk

Northern Shrike

Northern Shrike - strike

Unwanted Guests

Squirrels, pigeons, raccoons, mice, cats ?
partial solutions:

- Specifically designed feeders
- Designated areas
- Type of feed
- Bring feeders in at night in the spring, summer and fall
- Place feeders where there is little ground cover for predators

Red Squirrel

Gray Squirrel

Raccoon

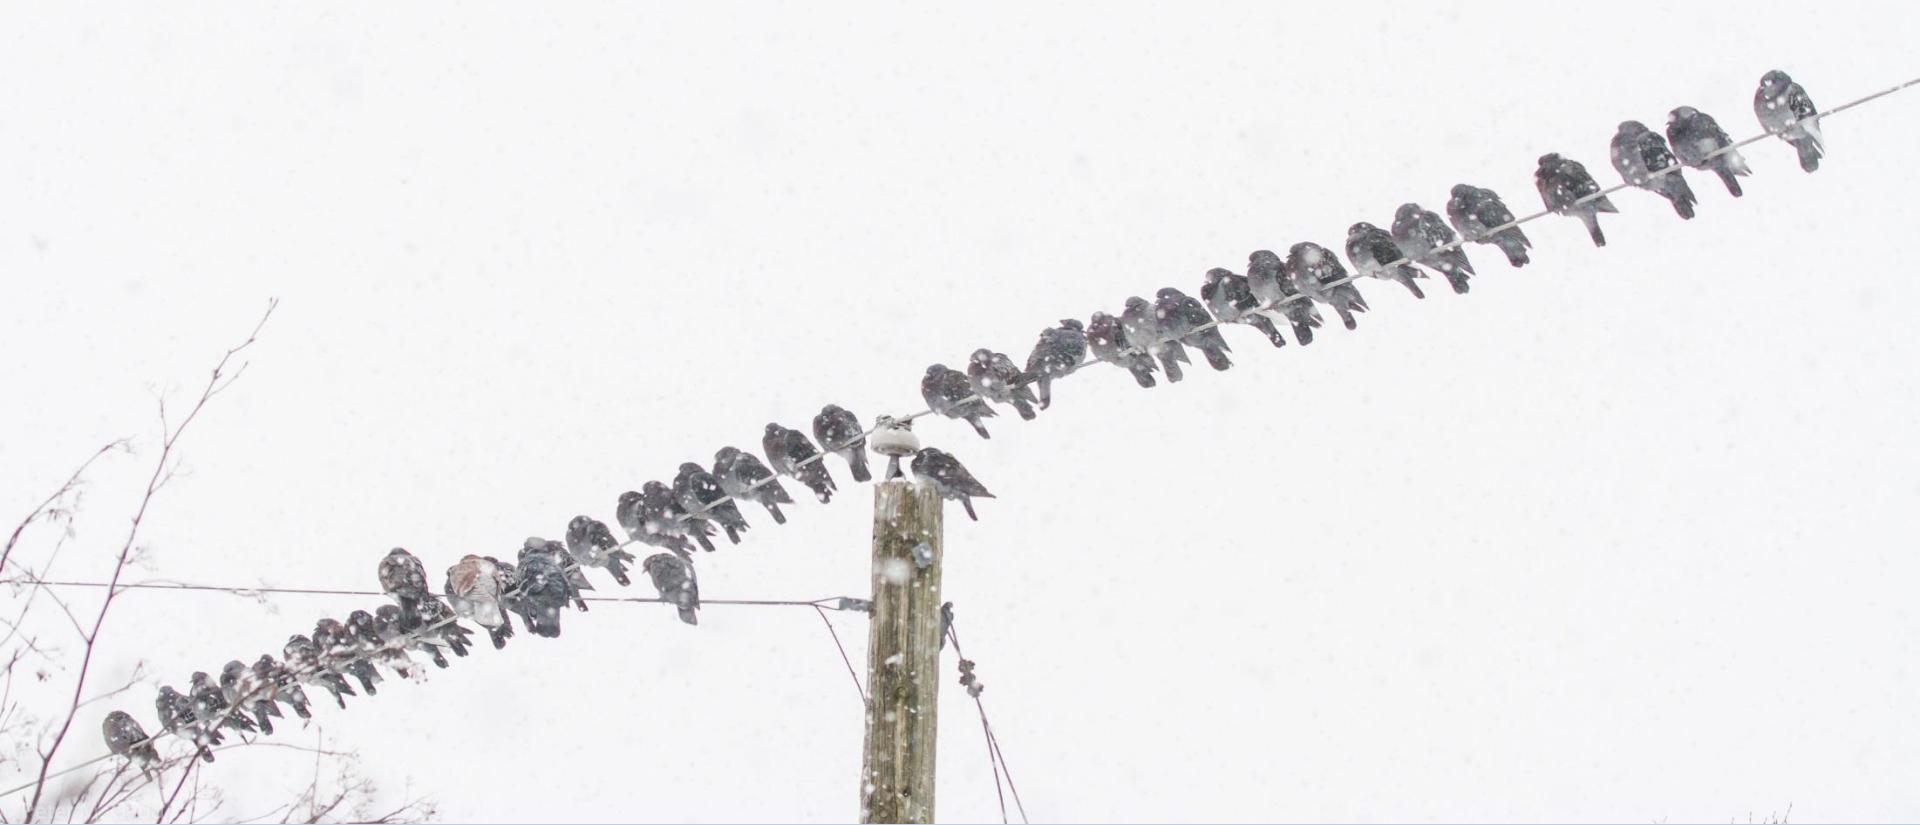

Mixed flock of black birds – early spring

Rock Dove (Feral Pigeon)

Rock Dove (Feral Pigeon)

Who Else Might be Around?

Birds you might see but tend favour wooded uninhabited areas:

Red Crossbill

White-winged Crossbill

Golden-crowned Kinglet

Boreal Chickadee

Gray Jay – attracted to humans though, it seems

© Peter M. Gadd

© Peter M. Gadd

Barred Owl

Great Horned Owl
Snowy Owl
Northern Hawk Owl
Barred Owl
Northern Saw-whet Owl

Northern Saw-whet Owl

Ring-necked Pheasant (male)

Ring-necked Pheasant (female)

Ruffed Grouse

Spruce Grouse (female)

Ruffed Grouse

Peter M. Gadd

Mallard and Pintail Duck

Canada Goose – early return!

Unusual visitors to the Miramichi area in recent years

- Crested Caracara
- White Pelican
- Purple Gallinule
- Fork-tailed Flycatcher
- Great Egret
- Glossy Ibis
- Snow Goose
- Barnacle Goose

Great Egret (Newcastle)

Glossy Ibis (Newcastle)

The End

Birding Links

- Bird Studies Canada - <http://www.bsc-eoc.org/>
- Cornell University – All About Birds:
<http://www.allaboutbirds.org>
- Maritime Breeding Bird Atlas - <http://www.mba-aom.ca/english/>
- Miramichi Naturalist Club -
<http://miramichinaturalistclub.wordpress.com>

- Birding New Brunswick -
<http://birdingnewbrunswick.ca/>
- Christmas Bird Count - <http://birds.audubon.org/christmas-bird-count>
- Project Feeder Watch - <http://feederwatch.org>
- Great backyard Bird Count - <http://gbbc.birdcount.org>
- Ebird - <http://ebird.org/content/canada>